

LGd is an industry leading provider of complete project management solutions.

LOOKING GLASS DEVELOPMENT is unlike any other firm in our industry because we are capable of providing an end-to-end Enterprise Project Management (EPM) solution. Our certified Project Management Professionals® work to understand your organization and employ methodologies which maximize your skills, so that we can then deploy Microsoft's latest enterprise project management tool and provide training to make you successful.

There are two differentiators which make LGd's service offering unique.

First and foremost, LOOKING GLASS DEVELOPMENT focuses on providing customers with a complete solution. Unlike other firms who have expertise in training, a particular tool, or helping you to develop your own methodology LGd offers all these services plus the confidence that comes from using the world standard in project assessment tools (OPM3®) from the Project Management Institute.

We also understand that not every firm needs a complete project management solution. That is why we have designed our offering as a buffet allowing our customers to pick and choose the components which are right for them.

Our process begins with a basic organizational assessment.

This assessment provides us with a clear understanding of the organization's objectives. Once this is done we can provide a full OPM3® assessment providing you with critical information about how your organization measures against other firms.

It is also important to note that you gain this advantage without anyone else ever knowing anything about your firm. This assessment also provides you with:

- ▲ A way to bridge the gap between an organization's strategy and individual projects
- ▲ A measurement tool against the world's best practices
- ▲ A way to measure the organization's project management maturity
- ▲ Guidance on cost effective improvement

Unlike other tools, OPM3® provides a way to cut across organizational boundaries and size to examine your project, program and portfolio performance.

Looking Glass Development uses this tool to develop customized methodology, provide software implementation and just-in-time training.
